The big rush for reservations for this years trip had to be cut off early

The Big Week-end is booked to capacity!

If you haven't reserved your spot for the annual June fishing trip, you're too late. The annual get-away is booked to capacity and no longer accepting reservations. Good organization and careful planning for the trip helped create a fury of interest not seen in years.

Ronald Zinn, organizer of this year's trip was surprised at how many guys decided to attend, "Gee, I planned this for 5 or 6 guys like the past few years, I never expected a response like this! I was a little taken back by all interest," Zinn said.

"A few phone calls, a crappy little newsletter, and a few more phone calls and it was organized! I actually had to cut it off at 10 guys. If I had even tried, we could have had 15 guys, no problem."

As well as the regulars, look for Ron Malloff and Tony Difasio.

They have both sent in their deposits and will be back this year. Neither have attended the trip in four or five years and say they are looking forward to the fishing and poker.

Since the cabin booked is for 10 people and 10 guys have signed up, space will be limited. Sleeping arrangements will be tight. Some people will be sleeping side by side in double beds, however there are a few single beds available. As usual, there will be draw to choose the sleeping arrangements.

Four chaloupes have been reserved, that means two guys per boat, so the fishing should be great. Will The Canette be coming back to Quebec this year? We certainly think so.

The price has changed, but it's still a deal

With so many people wanting boat rentals for the this year's fishing trip, organizer Ron has had to make some price adjustments.

"Ya, we're going to ask for a few more dollars from each person, because I did not anticipate the need for boat and motor rentals." Ron said from his office in Westmount, Quebec, "I've had to reserve two more chaloupes and 4 motors."

The new price per person will probably be closer to $150.00 than the previously announced $125.00 per person. The price breakdown for the trip is $500.00 plus tax for the cabin which includes 2 chaloupes. The extra chaloupes are $15.00 each a day, and the motors are $35.00 a day. The price has changed, but Ron says it's still a tremendous deal.

Captain High Liner's The Fishing Line: News and Tips

Just A Reminder

As mentioned in the previous Fishin' Trip '99 Newsletter, you must bring your own sleeping bag and pillow on the fishing trip. You must also bring all other personal supplies and food.

Don't bother bringing coffee, Costa Rican and Guatemalan drip will be available free in our cabin. As usual, midnight snacks will also be served. Do you have suggestions or favorites you'd like served? Please let us know. Send your suggestions to us at the Fishin' Trip '99 newsletter, and we'll do our best to have them served.

Quebec Licenses a Must

Quebec fishing licenses are a must for this year's fishing trip. There is a Bureau de service de la conservation et de la faune de Quebec located in nearby Val-des-Bois. You can be sure the conservation agents will be in the area and checking up on us. I have checked with our outfitter and Quebec visitors licenses will be available for sale on our fishing trip.

The Dead Minnow Club

As is the case throughout most of Quebec, live minnows are not permitted to use as bait. It is legal, however to use dead minnows, but only the minnows of white fish. It is strictly forbidden to use the minnows of pike, bass, catfish, sturgeon, walleye, muskie, trout, perch, as well as many others. Frogs and other live bait are another story. The Quebec Sportfishing Guide and Rules book will be available for consultation on the fishing trip.

You Basshole... Not!

This year we will be fishing in Quebec zone 10. Unfortunately, bass season opens the day after our trip, all other kinds of fish, however, will be legal. There are limits on the size and quantity of your catch.

The Top Ten reasons we don't like fishing with that Italian Guy

10. Can not control his liquor and is always picking fights with anyone who looks at him the wrong way.
9. He keeps insisting that his beer belly are really "beer biceps".
8. Always finding armpit hair in the boat.
7. Sick of all the references to the names "Tony" and "Pepperoni".

6. Instead of Blue or Export, he encourages you to buy a 24 of Brio.
5. The prosciutto breath.
4. He keeps insisting that he never caught that one-eyed trouser snake.
3. He keeps mumbling in his sleep "All Bright is all right!"
2. He never stops bragging about his Gucci life jacket that he bought in Milan.
1. All those humping stories.

FLASHBACK

IN A SERIES

It's Thursday evening, June 12, 1986, the second night for most of the guys on this year's fishing trip. The gang is all together at Phil's garage in Perth, Ontario, getting ready to head out in the houseboat the next morning.

Phil's garage was a super garage, a kitchen, a television, and places for ten to sleep, but it was only a garage. The foundation for Phil's house was ready, but it would be a few years before he would actually build his house.

The two Als were there and the two Rons were there. Phil, Whop and Tommy were also there, and everyone was having a great time playing poker.

Around 1:00 a.m., Ron Maldorf decided to sit out a hand so he could get another beer and take a pee. There was no plumbing in Phil's garage, so like everyone else there, Ron stepped outside to pee in the bushes.

Ron had only showed up that evening and it was his first time at Phil's garage, so he was not really familiar with the surroundings. It seems while walking around the garage, looking for a place to pee, he fell more than ten feet in to the inside of the foundation.

Although Ron sustained only cuts and bruises to his left arm, he said he only felt the pain the next morning.

Later on in that 1986 fishing trip, most of the boys were caught in the famous tornado on the Big Rideau. That will be the subject of the next Fishin' Trip Flashback.

YOU ASKED R&R

Questions you asked

Q: I have never been to The Riviere La Lievre before, what are the chances of getting a map of the area?

*Warren Kidd
St-Hubert, Quebec*

A: No problem, Whop! I have already taken care of this. I purchased a detailed topographical map of the area and have made copies. There will be a copy available for each boat on the fishing trip.

Q: Hey Ronnie, should I bring some ointment for you or will you be bringing your own?

*Allan Macintyre
Rockland, Ontario*

A: Shut-up, Macintyre!

Q: You will not quit, will you? Do not call me Curtis, My name is CURT. For fuck sake, you should be mature enough to respect this! I do not find it funny or humorous!

CURT Bowles Orleans, Ontario

A: Ya. Right.

Q: I am a little cheesed off at the idea of fishing in Quebec. I do not like the idea at all. Can you give me something positive to anticipate this June?

*Tony Difasio
Ottawa, Ontario*

A: Cheap beer and better variety. Beer stores open until 11:00 p.m. Titty bars open until 3:00 a.m. and I hear the fishing is good, too!

Q: I am still a little messed up with this business of buying a Quebec fishing permit. Can I get one at the place or not?

*P.G. Anderson
Toronto, Ontario*

A: The Pourvoirie La Lievre sells fishing permits for residents and visitors, so you can buy your permit there. It is advisable that you buy a 3 or 4 day visitors permit.

Don't think our fishing trip has gone too commercial!
